3. Select Other Quarter

The screenshot shows a web browser window titled "Coffee Stained Map". The main content is a map of Dublin, Ireland, with several administrative boundaries drawn in red. A blue marker indicates the center of Dublin. The map includes labels for Ratoath, Swords, Donabate, Maranore, Howth, Phoenix Park, Blackrock, Dun Laoghaire, Bray, Killiney Army Camp, Clondalkin, Tallaght, Cuala, Lucan, Celbridge, and Blanchardstown. In the top left corner of the map area, there is a legend for "South Dublin County Council" and "Fingal County Council". The sidebar on the left contains a "Filters & Tools" section with the following options:

- Filter by Quarter: A dropdown menu set to "South-East".
- Find Closest Cafés: Input fields for latitude (53.34) and longitude (-6.26), with a "find" button.
- Find Cafés Within Radius: Input fields for latitude (53.34), longitude (-6.26), and radius (2000 meters), with a "find" button.
- Hide Quarters: A button to hide the quarter boundaries on the map.

4. Closest Cafes on Map

This screenshot shows a detailed view of the Dublin city center on the "Coffee Stained Map". The map displays a dense grid of streets and landmarks, including the River Liffey, the Custom House, and various neighborhoods like Temple Bar, The Liberties, and Smithfield. Several blue location markers are placed on the map, indicating the proximity of cafes. A search input field labeled "search location" is visible in the center of the map. The sidebar on the left remains the same as in the previous screenshot, with the "Filter by Quarter" dropdown set to "-- select quarter --".
